Parent-Teacher Association

Realizing the importance of an interested, informed membership, the keynote of the Fairfax High Parent Teacher Association, now in its third year, has been to establish closer communication between parents, faculty, and students

Executive Board chairmen started the year in September by entertaining the faculty at breakfast. Bolstered by a growing, enthusiastic membership, the Fashion Show in October was the first of a series of fund-raising activities which were not only financially successful but brought parents, faculty and students together in closer co-operation

A valuable exchange of information took place at association meetings in developing the theme "Working With Our Students." Students were presented from Leadership, Drama and Journalism classes and participated with parents and teachers in panel discussions of timely topics. A newsette was sent home informing the parents of each association meeting. The PTA Youth Services committee conducted a survey on clubs and activities offered for young people within the school and community. A program of telephone communication to all parents was organized by the Room Representative committee. An honorary life membership was awarded at the February Founders Day meeting for outstanding service to youth

Fairfax High Parent Teacher Association, under the leadership of Mrs. Morton Matlaf, has enjoyed a year of enthusiastic accomplishment

Our class entered Fairfax High in February 1959. We elected Jo Victory Smith as our first class president and during her term of office, had a Beach Party at Playa Del Rey. In the A-10 with Marshall Bloom as president, our class enjoyed a Snow Trip up at Mt. Waterman, the first of several snow trips to come.

Our Junior year like the others, was hard work and fun. With Joel Zeitlin as B-11 president, we gathered in Goodwin Gardens for a Class Picnic. Doug Routh presided as A-11 president and during this time, our class along with the B-11 class presented the first Junior Prom in the history of Fairfax, "11th Heaven," which has since become a tradition at our school.

As our Senior Bee semester began, we elected Phil Samovar as president, Wayne Miller as vice-president, Rena Rosenman as secretary, Sue Slutsky as treasurer, and Joan Claitman as historian. During the first week of the B-12 semester, we chose ADELPHIANS, meaning the seekers of wisdom, as our class name, and charcoal and powder blue as our class colors. Our class participated in the Senior Aye-Senior Bee Volleyball Game and Talent Show, another fun-filled Snow Trip up at Mt. Waterman, and our Senior Bee Breakfast. We received our beautiful class sweaters in June 1959. It soon came time to pay our Senior Dues, have our home rooms changed to the auditorium, and begin our wonderful Senior Aye semester. Our class officers were, Art Avazian, president, Ron Bass, vice president, Marilyn Neuton, secretary, Sue Slutsky, treasurer, and Joan Claitman, Historian. Our activities were many, and included the Senior Aye-Senior Bee Volleyball Game and Ash Grove Talent Show, a picnic in Goodwin Gardens and our fabulous Senior Aye Breakfast. The Adelphian girls presented Fairfax with another first, a Senior Tea in Greenway Court for the mothers and daughters of the Senior Aye Class. Then came a most memorable night—our Senior Prom with "Grecian Fantasy" as our theme. The Award assembly saw our many outstanding students receive recognition for their fine service to our school. On January 28, 1960, commencement exercises were held in the Fairfax Auditorium. The graduates then attended another first for Fairfax, an All-night Party.

Our sincere thanks go to our wonderful friend and counselor, Miss Goldblum, along with Miss Schulhof, Miss Turkish, and everyone who helped make our class and our years at Fairfax a success.

Les Soixantes

Yes, the "Time" has finally arrived and our three years at Fairfax are behind us. It is difficult for us to realize that graduation will be our last day as students here. However, we are proud of the experiences we have had, and the knowledge we have gained while at Fairfax will remain with us always.

We were a great class and have grown into great individuals. We have enjoyed and the achievements we have made.

During our three years at Fort Porter, we have had many additional connections with the Army. The first was when Heaven was held for the first time at Fort Porter. Our Prom was truly an Evening Heaven. [Our Annual Assembly, which was also an Eye See Bee talent show, was a huge success enjoyed by all.]

Our real innovation was the selection of our class name, "Les Soixantes," and colors, powder-blue and white in the A 11. We also had the opportunity to order our own class rings, which we wore proudly, to wear them during our entire senior year.

We have had outstanding officers throughout the year. Our new senior parliament of a great officer body was ably guided by Bert Fishman and Nick Brown. Our first executive year was led by Murray Helzer and Andy Garb. Rick Brown, as president, along with Ruth Schwartz, Carolyn Kresman, Rita Cherry, and Joanne Kahn headed our great Senior Bee semester. Pierre our class mascot served as the mascot to Pierre's Pet. The breakfast highlighted by the introduction of the class songs written by Linda Tabor was the shining activity of the term.

With the election of Senior Aye officers, our thoughts turned toward the glorious last semester to be spent at Fairfax - a semester which has already flown by. The results of the election were Murray Heizer, class President; Barbara Havassy, Vice-president; Michele Bender, Secretary; Judy Kane, Treasurer; and Hassan Dore, Water. Homerooms were held in the Aud. dresses cars went on sale and a contest was run every day. Many members of the class purchased beers which carried out our French theme. We enjoyed several extracurricular activities. The first was a trip to Disney and which can be more accurately titled "Disneyland in the Park." The precipitation rather than dampen our spirits only add to the fun. Goodwin Gardens was opened at lunch giving all grade classes a chance to get together while enjoying favorite dishes. None of us will forget the day the class drama and a picture was taken and the talent show in Greenway Court. The theater party at the Gramman's Chinese restaurant before Easter vacation provided another opportunity for the "Les Soixantes" to be together, as well as see "Who Was That Lady?"

As in our Senior Bee semester we had a talent show this year with the Capistrano entered Madness at Mo gros on Apr. 20th Both shows were successful and very successful. The Students and the mothers enjoyed the Senior tea, Petite Fleur, held May 4th in Greenway Court. A fashion show headed the program

The selection at Ephebes was a difficult one as only a small number of the many detainees were able to receive this honor. Several Sixties had been given the opportunity to enter JPLA and LACC where, at Fairfax and others were taking college courses at school which only a small number of the detainees could do. This was a new program and of course "Les Soixantes" were among the first to participate.

A most memorable night was June 3rd - our Senior Prom and as is remembered it was "C'est Magnifique."

The awards assembly was a proud one for us as we saw outstanding classroom teachers receive recognition for their fine service to the school and community.

Our commencement exercises were held on June 16, 1960, on Van Cleve Field. As we stood to receive our coveted diplomas and bid our final farewells to Fairfax, we realized how much we owed to our sincere friend and counsellor, Miss Bordon, and Miss Schuch for our Senior Ave Sponsor, the administrators and faculty whose help and understanding have made our years at Fairfax rich and successful.

Our sincerest Thanks

CECILIA DE MORAS
FOREIGN EXCHANGE
STUDENT FROM CHILE

Wide Wide World Club

The newly formulated Wide Wide World Club has joined the ranks of interest clubs here at Fairfax this semester.

The purpose of this club is to promote the advancement of cultural knowledge among students of Fairfax and those of foreign countries, mainly the AFS student program.

The bi-monthly meetings feature guest speakers, recordings and films from foreign lands. The members of the Wide Wide World Club have attended many interesting outings such as pot-luck luncheons and tours of special places such as Chinatown.

Most of the members wish to travel, and the meetings provide them with the chance to discuss their aspirations. By working closely with Cecilia De Moras, exchange student from Chile, the members have learned much about her native land of South America.

In the future the Wide Wide World Club will expand; it will continue to work with the exchange students of the coming semester.

Bee Athlete of the Year and all-leaguer Larry Gellman along with all-leaguer Jerry Lutz led the Lion Bee Football team to a highly successful season, ending in second place behind Venice.

The defense-minded midgets held every opponent except Venice to 6 points or better.

Quarterback Pete Ratican and just about every other player secured a position of honorable mention or second team all-league.

Well, basketball just isn't Fairfax's favorite sport, but contrary to what you might think, the team did win three league games and three practice games, that in itself is something to comment on.

Playing in one of the toughest leagues in the city, the Varsity Cagers did manage three victories (Venice, Hami, and Hollywood).

In the practice season the Colonials beat L.A., and subdued Verdugo Hills and Belmont, both of which entered the City Basketball Tournament.

All in all, it wasn't a bad year. The seniors who played on the basketball team had more victories during last season than they had the two previous years combined.

ROW 2: R. Aller, M. Merlin, D. Glantz, S. Kaplan, J. Nash, J. Jacobson, B. Granok

Andy Garb, Bob Berg and a slew of misplaced boys from the gym classes, brought the Junior Varsity basketball team to a second place finish in the Western League.

The promotion of Jerry Rosen and Joel Centmon to the Varsity team seemed to be disastrous, but proved that where there's a will there's a way.

Along with Garb and Berg, Jack Jacobs and Richard "6-5" Alter proved quite effective in bringing the Cagers to second place.

ROW 1: M. Gettis, S. Smolker, S. Sassoon, D. Sklar, S. Vine, S. Wold, K. Smith
 ROW 2: K. Sabel, M. Kravitz, G. Farbslein, A. Kopan, E. Dorfman, J. Miller,
 T. Schiff, N. Smith, Coach Roche

Hosting 26-4 record, the Bee Cagers ended the season in second place, while the Cees concluded with a first place tie with University.

Shel Wold's 20 point plus average in the last couple of games enabled the Bees to stay in second place. Dan Sklar, Steve Vine, and "easy" Ed Dorfman should be congratulated on a fine season.

The Cees boasted a fine record throughout the entire season having a nine game winning streak including the practice games. Norm MacDonald and Jim Zimmerman kept the team on its toes and enabled them to continue on the winning path.

Tennis Team

The tennis team, coached by Mr. Leonard Taaffe did not live up to expectations as the season progressed. However, they had a few standouts with a tough schedule to go with it. This season they played Los Angeles High (picked for 1st in city) in a practice session and faced the Warriors of University (picked 2nd in city) twice in Western league action.

Some boys that should get recognition are Caprician Larry Schwartz, 1st man with an outstanding backhand, followed by Caprician Bill Pilzer and Soixante John Lauer. Next year Coach Taaffe will have to start from scratch with only eleventh grader Ron Slates returning. Good luck!

 ROW 2: R. Brin, R. Chernick, M. Kahn, B. Pitzer, S. Kapitz, R. Koltz, A. Kaplan, A. Gordon, Mr. Taaffe

Varsity Track

The Fairfax Varsity Track Team had a poor season this year, losing all their meets. Coaching in the field events was Mr. Sid Curtis and Keith Lloyd was coach of the track events.

In the practice tuneups we fared well in some events, but did not have the needed second and third places. In the first meet we lost to Belmont, however, Ric Shencopp brought home the honors in the sprints with times of 10.3 and 23.5 respectively. Craig Stanman ran an easy mile, winning in a time of 4.42. In the second practice meet Ric won in times of 10.2 and 22.2, and Stanman broke the school mile in 4:33.5 n; however, he lost to Franklin's Dan Howard at the wire.

Starting league competition, the Lions faced defending league champions, University, but lost by a wide margin. On the second meet of the season Fairfax faced their arch rivals Hollywood High, where we lost by a very slim margin of two points.

The standouts were sprinter—440 man Ric Shencopp leading the pack with times of 10.1 and 50.5 (in his 1st 440 of the season), Half miler Steve Goodman got the needed points in his event, and Craig Stanman came through again with 4:32.5 n.

Other top Varsity trackmen were Rich Glazer, high jump, Mark Merlin, shot put; Jack Kaplan, hurdles; and Steve Sekelsky, broadjump.

ROW 1: C. Davidson, S. Goodman, R. Glazer, C. Stanman, G. Mandel, M. Miloh, H. McPherson
ROW 2: K. Kleinman, S. Berger, S. Zavan, M. Lammes, M. Seltzer, M. Lessow, A. Kaplan, Mr. Curtis.

ROW 1: D. Rosenberg, R. Klein, J. Shaffer, P. Witt, C. Simmons, F. Gonzales, M. Lerner, M. Bardavid, M. Friend, A. Ernest ROW 2: E. Kraft, L. Koye, A. Harding, A. Franco, J. Brower, K. Bazar, J. The Bee track team had one of the best seasons yet, taking second in league. Joel Kahan ran the century in 10.6 and anchored the relay, winning most of the races. Frank Gonzales ended the season undefeated in his specialty, the high jump. In the 660, Louis Ravitz did a fine job, winning most of his races. Putting the shot 53' 4" was Tim Schiff, followed by 40-footers, Marty Marias and Mike Friend. In the 220 were Warren Entner and Joel Kahan running consistently well.

The Bees were particularly good in the field events, where they scored many points all season. This was one of the strongest Bee teams that coach Keith Lloyd had put together in a long time. Some other outstanding performers were Jon Brower, 660; Ken Bazar and Mike Friend, 100; Marty Marias, 10 foot polevaulter; and outstanding distance man, Peter Witt.

Cee Track

The Cee track won one meet and lost four this season. The top men in the different events were Sammy Goldberg, pole vault, shot put, hurdles; Rocky Murchasin, hurdles and broad jump; Bert Berman and Larry Kohn, 180; and Norm Prinsky and Don Brown, 100. The top distance man was Ely Almaleh running the 1320, winning most of his races.

This was not a strong team but a determined group of boys trying to win for Fairfax High. It was a complete team effort.

ROW 1: N. Codd, D. Abelson, S. Mangul, K. Nepove, J. Herschorn, J. Udell, A. Franco, ROW 2 D. Rosenberg, S. Mendelson, L. Ravitz, S. Levin, E. Almaleh, S. Brenner, M. Cohn, L. Puritsky, I. Cross Country

Craig Stanman, ace distance man, along with Marty Seltzer and Steve Goodman, could only manage to bring the varsity horriers to a fair two to three record in strong Western League Competition.

The varsity beat Hollywood and Hamilton while losing to Venice, Westchester and University, who placed fourth in city.

Leading the Tenth Grade cross country team to third place in the Western League, were Ely Almaleh Norm Cohen, and Louie Ravitz.

Varsity Baseball

ROW 1: L. Kaye, D. Sklar, P. Rotcan, K. Smith, B. Berg, S. Vine ROW 2: J. Friedman, N. Shapiro, M. Epstein, J. Okin, B. Granok, A. Gorb, Coach Shaffer ROW 3: D. Abelson, B. Izakowitz, M. Schneiderman, S. Schwartz, S. Wold, G. Lutz

As the 1960 annual went to press, the Varsity Baseball team was in last place in the Western League with a record of 0-2. In the first league game of the season the Colonial nine lost to University by a surprising score of 11-4.

There were few leading hitters to speak of but the most outstanding are Mike Epstein pitcher, and Brad Thorpe, left fielder. Scrappy and determined ball players were that of that corner man Steve Vine, short stop Larry Kaye, and first sacker Bob Berg. Other outstanding performers were catchers Kenny Smith and Pete Rotcan.

The Key event of the season was tying defending City Champs, Van Nuys, 3-3 in the first pre-season game of the current season.

Junior Varsity Baseball

Coach E. B. Smith's Junior Varsity Nine looks like an interesting team to watch this season. They have bright hopes of taking league honors

So far this season they have brought Fairfax High some thrills as well as heart breaks in some exciting games. In the 1st pre-season game, they produced some timely hitting, beating Van Nuys 9-5. The next game was quite a bit different, tying the Loyola Nine by a score of 2-2

The outstanding performers this season were Dick Thorpe, short stop; Jerry Rosen, pitcher; and keystone sack man, Richard Pink. The team has a nucleus of strong and determined ball players, hoping to bring Fairfax a league title

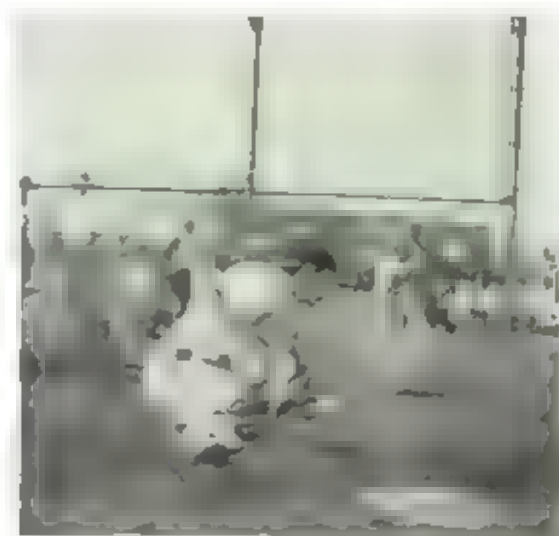

Their overall record this season is outstanding, losing only to University in the League opener. They have beaten Van Nuys, Loyola, Beverly Hills, and Los Angeles High, in that order

Coach Smith hopes they will live up to the fine record they have set so far and bring home 1st place to Fairfax once more

Gym Team

Coach Bishop turned out another fine team this season which plans to take league honors after placing second last season. Many of the top flight performers are gone, but there are still some that have shown outstanding ability this season.

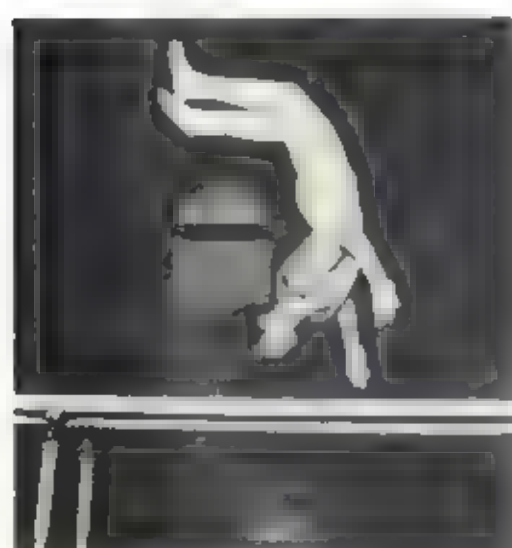

Some of the outstanding performers of notable interest are Arny Lipin, sidehorse, who took 1st place in league last season; Mirek Barowski, who has rope climbed in 40 seconds; Steve Rex, rope climber; and all award performer Andy Shapiro, who scored 33 1/2 points in the Van Nuys practice meet this season.

Pre-season results were very impressive as the Lion gymnasts trounced Van Nuys in the first practice meet of the season by a score of 93-27. In the second meet the Colonial contortionists fared well although losing to defending city champs, North Hollywood, by a score of 73 1/2-46 1/2.

As we went to press, the Colonial gymnasts were preparing to face Jordon and San Fernando in the final practice meet of the season. As the league action begins, it looks as if the Fairfax gym team will win league and place high in city.

W'60 R. O. T. C.

The Fairfax High School Reserved Officers Training Corps, beginning the semester with the Honor School award for the fifth year in succession, bid farewell to M. Sgt. Warren G. Smith, who was transferred to Korea, and with prospects of another highly successful year welcomed its new Sergeant Instructor M. Sgt. Paul C. Holm and its new Assistant Professor of Military Science and Tactics Captain Jack A. Abadie.

The Battle Group Commander, Colonel Howard Garfield, entered competition early in the semester and was selected as one of the top three ROTC cadets in the city. Colonel Garfield was given the position of Brigade Commander, North Brigade.

Leading the Battle Group to a semester filled with innovations and activities was the staff: Cadet Major Robert Klein, Executive Officer; Lieutenants David Gish, Louis Traeger, Ronald Cohen, and Alfred Dahlgren, and Cadets David Slater and Allen Kent.

In all city individual drill competition Cadets Martin Rickler and Alfred Dahlgren each placed third in the B-10 and third year groups, respectively, and the Fairfax rifle squad led by Cadet SFC James Jacobson placed second in all city competition.

Honorary co-ed officers: Colonel Marilyn Altshule, Majors Linda Mast and Bobbie Kleinberg, and Captain Diana Bodlander, Penny Fenster, and Linda Piller were invited to the formal Military Ball held in conjunction with Los Angeles High School. This gala affair was a grand success.

The ROTC newsletter, The Crossed Rifles, announced the Cadet of the Week Awards and the results of the home football games where the ROTC color guard presented the colors and the new ROTC service platoon performed. The cadets, sharp in their white helmets, hope to serve again next year. The Fairfax Rifle Team again brought much honor to the school.

A party on December 5, 1959 highlighted a semester of fine service by the honor organization, Sword and Scabbard, led by President Earl Blauner.

The prospects of a fruitful and successful semester, expressed at the beginning of the term, were certainly fulfilled.

Summer

R.O.T.C.

The Fairfax High School Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps started this semester in full swing with preparations for the annual Federal Inspection. This all-important event in the R.O.T.C. year came in April this year, and this overall inspection determined whether or not the unit will be designated as "Honor School." It included not only a detailed inspection of troops and their state of training, but also a thorough investigation of the accuracy and proper order of the office records and files.

On March 7, 1960, the Battle Group Commander, Cadet Colonel Alfred Dahlgren, competed in the semi-annual City Colonel's Test, and was selected as the City Colonel for the Spring Semester, the top cadet position in the city.

Another important event was the election of the new honorary co-ed officers. The new co-eds, Captains Jeri Brown, Maggie Brody, and Marti Steiner, and the previous co-eds, Colonel Diana Bodlander, and Majors Penny Fenster and Linda Piller, all provided color and impressiveness to the formation of troops on parade days.

A highlight of the R.O.T.C. semester is the Military Ball. The Fairfax Battle Group hosted for Los Angeles High School at Greenway Court. The atmosphere of uniforms and decorations provided a fine impression to those who attended.

The R.O.T.C. newspaper, the Crossed Rifles, was published weekly under the direction of Cadet Ronald Cohen, Public Information Officer. This paper covered a multitude of subjects, including a Commander's Column, military history, and new developments in weapons and concepts of warfare.

Another highlight of the semester is the annual weekend trip to Fort MacArthur in San Pedro. The first activity was a night maneuver over a compass course. Then the cadets were able to visit a Nike missile site, and later they saw a demonstration in Chemical, Biological, and Radiological Warfare. Firing rifles on the range and a major tactical exercise were also included on the program.

The fine and very able Battle Group Staff included: Cdt. Major Joel Rembaum, Deputy Battle Group Commander; Cdt. Major James Osaki, Executive and Operations and Training Officer; Cdt. Capt. Don Kaplan, Adjutant and Supply Officer; Cdt. Lt. Ronald Cohen, Public Information Officer; Cdt. Lt. Allen Kent, Administrations Officer; and Cdt. S.F.C. David Slater, Supply Sergeant.

The unit and its members participated in various competitions during the semester. The Company Competition came up in May, with our competing Company performing well.

During the last few weeks of the semester, an Awards Day was held, in which the various awards and medals went to those cadets whose effort and achievement were well worthy of notice.

This semester the Sword and Scabbard, R.O.T.C. honor and service organization, was integrated into the Campus Control Program. The members of the organization served at posts around the school, concentrating on keeping order and a clean campus. Several new members were elected to the organization, and other activities were participated in by the club.

The end of the semester completed the unit's first year with the new Commandant of Cadets, M/Sgt. Paul C. Holm, Sgt. Instr. James F. Noe, and the new Asst. Prof. of Military Science & Tactics, Capt. Jack A. Abadie.

CAROL KUPERS
W 60 GAZETTE EDITOR IN CH EF

Winter Gazette

W 60 GAZETTE STAFF

While the rest of Fairfax High School continues its march of progress and improvement, the COLONIAL GAZETTE keeps pace happily. Under its Editor-in-Chief, Carol Kupers, the "Whistle while they work" staff effected great improvements, for harmony and helpfulness seemed to be the keynote of the semester. Advisor Ben Adelson was not only excellent in his advisory capacity, but even more so in his role as one of the staff—helpful and cooperative beyond the call of duty. Genius is next to insanity, so Elaine Kellet, as managing editor, performed in her inimitable manner next to Editor Kupers.

Speaking of genius, flashes of it were very evident in the work of page editors Linda Cohn, Marsha Wolfe, Judy Engel, Howard Englander, Rosalie Gershon, Jerry Labinger and Ric Shencopp; the two Senior Aye Editors Robin Shaeffer and Ellen Simon; and Exchange Editor Maxine Gluskin.

The circulation manager, Joan Farina, and the advertising manager, Judy Broker, helped very much by their efficient handling of the business end of the paper. And the Gazette's accuracy was assured by copy chiefs Larry Rivetz, Sue Slutsky and Carolee Wechsler.

A picture (whether a cartoon or photograph) is worth 10,000 words, as proven this semester by Art Editors Joan Aaron and Joanne Cadkin and Photographers Chuck Braverman and Joel Boxer.

Without excellent reporting and writing, however, all the above efforts would be useless. So let us not forget the brilliant work of reporters Joyce Chadwick, Ron Domnitz, Melissa Eisner, Susie Friedman, Suzanne Levy, Mike Matloff, Bob Moss, and Lee Shultz.

How could a paper fail to be successful with all these?

Summer Gazette

Leading the Summer '60 Gazette to a fruitful semester and representing the Gazette on Colonial Council was Editor-in-Chief Elaine Kellet. Assisting Elaine in key positions were Linda Cohn, Associate Editor, in charge of Gazette outside activities and the revision of the Colonial Customs handbook, and Robert Moss, Managing Editor, in charge of "beats" and general assignments.

Major improvements this semester were made in the content of articles, foremost of which was the improvement of page two from a feature page to an editorial-feature page. Aside from publishing articles of higher quality, increased publication of Letters to the Editor and a new culture column gave more meaning to the paper.

In charge of putting the paper together were News Co-Editors Judy Broker and Mike Matlaf, Editorial Page Co-Editors Sue Levy and Larry Rivetz, Feature Page Co-Editors Howard Englander and Lee Schultz, Sports Editor Jerry Labinger, and Associate Sports Editor Rosalie Gershon.

Other staff positions were held by Linda Rosenberg, Senior Aye Editor, Ronnie Domnitz, Exchange Editor; Roberta Benjamin, Circulation Manager; Susie Friedman, Advertising Manager; Sandy Pritikin, Art Editor; and Ronnie Domnitz, Joan Farina and Susan Howard, Copy Editors.

Building the foundation for the Gazette, the reporters were Richard Aller, Mike Berns, Marvin Bernstein, Marion Faber, Joan Farina, Shelia Feldman, Steve Gardner, Hillard Gordon, David Greenberg, Susan Howard, Mel Lieberman, Richard Pink, Curtis Roberts, Steve Schwartz and Francine Strauss.

Photographers were Joel Boxer and Larry Scher.
